Dear Sir -

I have about one dozen very old coins which I would like to have appraised as I wish to sell them, and I thought possibly you might recommend ~~me~~ some reliable dealer in coins, as well as tell me how I would best determine their value?
I should be very grateful if you could do this for me. My aunt, the late Mrs Rachel H. Barrington, was for many years a member of your Society, altho I know nothing about coins nor their value.

These I have include several I received from her collection & The other few belonged to my grandfather. Thanking you for any addresses you may be able to give me.

Yours very truly

(Miss) Dorothy Burgoyne Haig

Dear Madam:

From your communication I am unable to advise you intelligently regarding your coins. If they are ancient coins and if it is possible for you to come with them to our Museum some afternoon we could then tell you which of several dealers you might go to and something of the value of the coins. I should suggest your telephoning us so that either Mr. Wood or myself might be sure to be here when you call.

Very truly yours,

Secretary
